

Mom, I'm study Polish. My older child is already in kindergarten.

I think about you all the time! I'm worry!

We are fine. I look at your childhood photos.

Don't be afraid, kitty! I already know how to shoot a grenade launcher, live near a fire, climb a mountain to receive your message, warm myself with a friend's back, and most importantly, drink instant coffee :)

Today is 48 February, the endless Groundhog Day.

I don't want to, but I have to eat.

The DSNS UKR (State Emergency Service of Ukraine) reminds:

During martial law, you must always have an identity document.

In the event of an air alert, immediately go to the nearest bomb shelter.

It is forbidden to be in public places during the curfew.
